Dear Chief Pozzo,

Lovettsville Volunteer Fire and Rescue (LVFR) appreciates the opportunity to participate in the Loudoun County Fire, Rescue and Emergency Management's Respiratory Protection Program. As discussed earlier, LVFR has recently invested a significant amount of our own Company funds on the latest self contained breathing apparatus (SCBA) equipment offered by Scott™. One example is that all of our SCBA masks have electronic enunciators/voice amplifiers and all packs were purchased with the latest options at the time ordered.

- The Lovettsville Volunteer Fire and Rescue has elected to participate in the Loudoun County Fire, Rescue and Emergency Management's Respiratory Protection Program effective the date of this letter.
- The Lovettsville Volunteer Fire and Rescue agree to transfer ownership of all Scott™ SCBAs to include packs, regulators, reducers and cylinders, per attached list, to LCFR (see attached inventory list).
- The LCFR Emergency Management Respiratory Protection Program will return any SCBA related LVFR equipment upon successful maintenance and/or repair to LVFR. If unable to repair, then the program will replace with equivalent or improved equipment as compared to the inventory list dated April 2010.

Dear Chief Pozzo,

Lovettsville Volunteer Fire and Rescue (LVFR) respectfully requests that Company 12 be assigned at a minimum a 3000 gallon Tanker, per the Loudoun County Fire, Rescue specifications, either in the next County budget cycle or sooner if possible.

At the present time Company 12 is running with a 1999 Pierce Engine/Tanker with only 1500 gallons. Over the last ten years Lovettsville and the surrounding area has seen a significant increase in larger homes, 4000 sf and above, in a primarily rural setting. The majority of our first due is outside of Town limits and without access to fire hydrants.

Company 12 also recognizes the need to replace our existing Wagon (a 1999 Pierce Pumper) and would like the County to consider a possible sharing of this expense, similar to a 60/40 split, with LVFR taking on the majority of the expense.

Regards,

Lewis P. Smallwood
